New mathematic theorem:

There is no formula that gives you infinite with finite numbers except a constant divided for the logarithm in base 10 or any base number of x/x, could be any logarithm except when x is 0.